DID YOU KNOW?

FUN FACTS FOR SOCIAL MEDIA

These fun facts about the Roaring Twenties will engage students during the Return of the '20s promotion. Use them on social media or post them in the dining hall to keep student interest high!

- There was a significant culture change in the United States during the Roaring Twenties, as media and movies were able to be mass-produced.
- The first automobiles were created in the 1920s, giving people the freedom to drive.
- Women who wore short skirts and listened to Jazz would be called flappers, and these same women usually liked to wear short hair as well.
- In 1927, Charles Lindbergh was the first person to fly a solo nonstop transatlantic flight.
- The music of the '20s was called the Jazz Age, a type of music that was a popular part of the culture, and many Americans loved to listen to it and go out dancing to musicians like Louis Armstrong.

- Many believe speakeasies began popping up during the 1920s, but these illegal establishments date to the 1880s.
